ON THE COVER

The new Upper Gardens area at Pinecrest Gardens includes a petting zoo that will feature the "Village"—three interactive shelters where visitors can learn about and pet the animals. The backyard to those animal homes will feature a large open space where the zoo animals will roam and play freely. The climbing rock will be a prominent feature that will give visitors a thrill as they watch the goats climb to its summit. The perfect backdrop for the new zoo will be a barn to house the animals during storm events. The barn will allow opportunities for visitors to learn and interact with miniature horses, miniature cows, goats, sheep, pigs, chickens and rabbits.

a MESSAGE to the VILLAGE

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Joseph M. Corradino

We are in the holiday season, a time when the Village comes alive with arts and culture for everyone in your family. Visit Pinecrest Gardens to experience four art exhibitions located throughout the Gardens. Cypress Hall will feature Carola Bravo's latest hARTvest Project, an exhibition in collaboration with FAMA, that is part of THREADING THE CITY. Hibiscus Gallery will present The Markers: South Pole exhibit by Xavier Cortada and visit the new Inspiration Center's inaugural photographer Annette Bonnier's exhibition Reflections from the Shadows.

We will also be hosting our signature Nights of Lights event that transforms Pinecrest Gardens into a winter wonderland dotted by thousands of twinkling lights that go up, through and around the whimsical botanical landscape. Nights of Lights opens December 11 and runs through January 1. After enjoying the holidays, get a healthy start into the new year and join us for the second annual FitCrest 5K on January 7.

MANAGER'S MESSAGE

Yocelyn Galiano

The Village ushers in each new year with an updated Strategic Plan. This plan serves as the framework to direct the Village's efforts and actions and to guide the budgetary process.

The latest update to the Strategic Plan was in 2021. It is comprised of seven strategic outcomes—Secure and Safe Community, Residential Character and Community Enhancement, Recreation and Infrastructure, Cultural Value, Environmental Sustainability and Transportation and Pedestrian Mobility.

Each year the plan is updated noting progress of each objective from the previous year's edition. New projects are added, and others deleted as indicated by the Village Council. Staff provides the Village Council and the public with a working document that has summaries and highlights from the many sources of information used to analyze the Village's financial condition, operational performance, customer requirements, and the forces at work in our economic, demographic, and legislative environment. With all this in hand, the Village Council holds multiple public meetings to finalize the Strategic Plan for that year.

This endeavor is indicative of the organizational commitment to data-driven decision making. It completes the ultimate feedback loop, where organizational direction from the Village Council is not set until market information, resident and customer feedback, performance data, and all other inputs are considered. To learn more about the strategic planning process and see the latest draft of the Village Council's Strategic Plan, visit www.pinecrest-fl.gov/strategicplan.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING SAFETY

Undeterred by the consequences, opportunistic thieves will ruin your Black Friday, Cyber Monday, and/or Super Saturday. Fortunately, a lot can be done to lessen the likelihood of becoming a victim.

Resident safety and quality of life are top priorities for the police department. Being a community that is known for detecting and apprehending criminals lessens that likelihood for crime. Based on this principle, police proactively conduct walking patrols, bike patrols, and saturation details, looking for suspicious or unsafe situations. In addition, police continue community-outreach events throughout the holiday season to consistently present security awareness and crime prevention information to citizens. During the holiday months police employ specific tactics to address the potential increase in holiday-related crime. However, community participation is key for success.

Holiday Safety Tips:

- Be situationally aware
- Adopt the Rest Routine
- Finish holiday shopping sooner than later
- Shop with a friend instead of alone
- Be mindful of how you dress, so that you do not look like a wealthy target

Thieves have been known to target persons wearing luxury purses or watches. Thieves also target high-end shopping malls such as the Miami Design District, Bal Harbour, Brickell City Centre, Aventura Mall, and the Shoppes at Merrick Park. When shopping, take a moment to notice if you're being followed. If so, go back to a safe location, notify store employees, and call the police. Also, be aware of being followed by a car. If that is the case, call the police and follow their instructions as you continue driving to a safe location.

For those who prefer online shopping, beware of porch pirates who prey on unattended packages. Instead of having items shipped to a doorstep, ship purchases to a place of work and opt for a signature confirmation. Other options include shipping to a temporary PO Box or pick-up point.

REST ROUTINE
IN THREE EASY STEPS
PINECREST

- 1- REMOVE ALL valuables & keys from cars.
- 2- LOCK ALL car & home windows & doors.
- 3- TURN ON ALL exterior lights & alarms.

Report suspicious activity by calling 911 or 305.234.2100.
Be safe. Be Kind. #Pinecresting

KENDALL SHARED USE PATH

After a yearlong process that included public outreach, data collection, analysis, conceptual design, and preliminary cost estimating, the Village's Transportation Master Plan was completed and adopted by the Village Council in 2018. Consulting engineers worked closely with Pinecrest residents and Transportation Advisory Committee (TAC) members to develop the Transportation Master Plan recommendations, which included the Kendall Drive Shared Use Path (KSUP). Over 12 public meetings in the form of Community Workshops, TAC meetings and Council meetings were held throughout 2017 and 2018 to inform that master planning process. During a Council meeting in November 2021, the Village Council approved commencement of construction plan design for the KSUP. The construction plan design process is ongoing and expected to be completed by end of 2022. In June and November 2022, the Village hosted public meetings to allow residents an opportunity to review the preliminary construction plans and provide input to the engineers regarding any concerns about the project such as existing landscaping and driveways that might be impacted. This past September, the Village Council approved funding for construction of the KSUP during the budget hearing process over the course of two public meetings.

Design is underway for an 8' Shared Use Path (SUP) from SW 67th Avenue to SW 57th Avenue that will replace the existing 5' concrete sidewalk with a path similar to the one on the east side of SW 57th Avenue. The winding path takes existing conditions such as trees and driveways into consideration to ensure proper visibility and safety for both pedestrians and drivers. Based on the preliminary plans, some trees will have to be removed—approximately 40 palms and 40 canopy trees. The final details are still being vetted by the project engineers. The Village Council is committed to a final product that will beautify the impacted length of Kendall Drive. Any loss of canopy due to removal of trees will be replaced at a 3 to 1 ratio by planting larger mature trees in the right place—improving driver safety as well as enhancing the overall tree canopy. Please visit www.pinecrest-fl.gov/KSUP for the latest information about this project.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT RUNDOWN

KENDALL DRIVE SHARED USE PATH

One of the adopted projects of the Village’s Transportation Master Plan (TMP) is the Kendall Drive Shared use Path (KSUP). The KSUP will connect SW 67 Avenue to Red Road, a length of just over one mile. The project consists of removing the existing five-foot-wide concrete sidewalk and constructing an eight-foot-wide asphalt path designed to accommodate two-way pedestrian and bicycle traffic. Any removed canopy will be replaced at a 3:1 ratio with mature street trees. The path will be located entirely on the south side of Kendall Drive, with some of the new street trees located on the north side of Kendall.

MATZNER PARK

Conceptual designs for Gary Matzner Park are expected to be presented at the December 13, 2022 Village Council meeting. The design team from MKSK Studios has reviewed data obtained through an online survey, community meeting, and public comments to develop a park that meets the community’s needs and balances open space and natural resources with play space for children and adults.

POTABLE WATER PROJECT

The Potable Water Project has installed over 70% of the proposed pipes, fire hydrants, and laterals. The first Phase is 100% installed and Phases 2 and 3 will be 100% installed by the middle of December. The last of the four phases will be 100% installed by the middle of January. Following installation of the pipes and hydrants several tests and procedures must be conducted. They include flushing the system, pressure testing, and bacteriological testing. Then the affected roads must be re-paved and all the affected swales re-sodded and repaired. Once this is accomplished, the Miami-Dade Department of Water and Sewer (WASD) can turn on the tap to each sub-phase. Residents of each sub-phase will receive letters from the Village detailing how to obtain their water agreement from WASD and step-by-step instructions on how to get their plumbing permit from the Village. These letters will be sent out about six weeks before the Village anticipates WASD is ready to turn on the tap to individual sub-phases. If residents have any questions about the project please visit www.pinecrest-fl.gov/water or email public works directly at publicworks@pinecrest-fl.gov.

The Parks and Recreation Department manages the Pinecrest Community Center and all public parks in the Village including Coral Pine Park, Evelyn Greer Park, Flagler Grove Park, Gary Matzner Park, Hidden Pines Park, Red Road Linear Park, Suniland Park, Veterans Wayside Park, and Village Green.

PINECREST GARDENS

It with great enthusiasm that we welcome Cristina Blanco as the new Director of Pinecrest Gardens. Cristina has more than 20 years of experience in non-profit management, leadership, marketing, and fundraising. Her background in fine arts spurred a career as a development director for notable institutions in visual and performing arts, higher education and ultimately as Vice President of Development and Communications for HistoryMiami (2006-2011). Prior to joining the Village, Cristina was the Chief Communications and External Affairs Officer at United Way Miami where she led the institution's robust communications and marketing strategy, volunteer engagement, community partnerships, and oversaw the organization's major fundraising events.

Cristina spearheaded the museum's ambitious rebranding into a premier cultural institution committed to gathering, preserving and celebrating Miami's history. In addition, Cristina served on the boards of City Theatre Miami and Young Patronesses of the Opera, and is a founding executive board member and vice chair of fund development for the Miami Chapter of the U.S. National Committee for UN Women.

Please join us in giving her a warm welcome, and say hello when you see her at one of our signature events.

Pinecrest Gardens, South Florida's Cultural Arts Park, is a premier venue for visual and performing arts, education, environmental conservation, and preservation. On any given day one can attend a concert or play, visit the Hibiscus Gallery, tour the 12-acres of native forested wetland, tropical hardwood hammock and native cypress slough, or take a class in art or horticulture. The park attracts over 180,000 visitors each year and was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in October 2011.

HIBISCUS GALLERY

In 2007, artist-in-residence Xavier Cortada used the ice sheet that blankets the South Pole as an instrument to mark time. Cortada will be exhibiting the work that he created 15 years prior in Antarctica, "The Markers: South Pole" and "150,000-year Journey" in Pinecrest Gardens' Hibiscus Gallery until February 2023.

Xavier Cortada, "The Markers: South Pole," 2007.

The Markers

Xavier Cortada's installation highlighted events that have moved our world forward in the time it has taken the Antarctic ice sheet to move about 500 meters. Cortada chronicled the passage of time by depicting those events on flags he placed at the South Pole on January 4, 2007.

To accomplish this, the artist created 51 differently colored flags, ranging from violet to red, each sequentially representing years from 1956 to 2006. He then marked each flag with the coordinates of a place where an event took place that moved the world forward during that given year (e.g., 1963's March on Washington, 1989's Fall of the Berlin Wall). Cortada then planted each year's flag in the location on the ice where all the meridians converged during that flag's respective year; that is, where the South Pole stood during that given year. Since the South Pole, 90°S, sits on a glacier that is in constant motion, its location on the ice above changes every year.

When the flags were planted they created a spectrum of color on the white surface of the ice. The first flag was planted at the location of the 2006 Geographic South Pole, with each subsequent flag spaced 10 meters apart and aligned in the direction of the Weddell Sea. Since the glacier below is moving everything in the same direction at about 10 meters annually, the flags mark where the South Pole stood in any given year.

150,000-year Journey

National Science Foundation Antarctic Artists and Writers Program awardee Xavier Cortada used polar ice to mark the passage of time in 2007. He initiated the process by planting a replica of a mangrove seedling on the 3 km-thick ice sheet that blankets the South Pole. Embedded in the moving glacier, the seedling ice sculpture started sliding in the direction of the Weddell Sea, almost 1,500 km away. This journey toward the seashore will conclude in approximately 150,000 years when the seedling will eventually set its roots.

The work invites viewers to reflect on our role as humans on this planet. Juxtaposing Antarctic time frames with human time frames (see "The Markers" project) reaffirms the notion that we are simply custodians of the planet who should learn to live in harmony with nature.

Xavier Cortada, "150,000-year Journey," 2007.

This Design Market is a meeting place for education and fun.

ART EXHIBITIONS

“Life at Street Level” and “Nature and History”

Curated by Carola Bravo

Exhibit runs through January 31 | Free and open to the Public

These provocative exhibits are part of the city-wide Fiber Arts Biennale “Threading the City” coordinated by FAMA “Fiber Artists Miami Association.” “Life at Street Level” interweaves fiber with photography, photo collage, video, and new works to capture an instant view of Miami at the street level that conveys urban resilience. “Nature and History” shows, for the first time in the history of Pinecrest Gardens, the “Historic Bird Cages” exhibit site-specific artworks.

“Senses of Belonging. Public Art in the City”

Curated by Carola Bravo

Exhibition runs February through June | Free and open to the Public

This exhibition shows a photographic record of a series of public artworks created by local artists in South Florida. It contributes to promoting and educating visitors about how public art benefits a community’s identity. Public art humanizes the built environment, revealing our society and adding meaning and uniqueness to our cities. The exhibit features murals, sculptures, memorials, integrated architectural or landscape architectural works, community art, digital new media, and even performances and festivals.

COLLECTION PROJECT

Pinecrest Gardens will be beta-testing a new botanical database in the upcoming year, one that is expected to make plant information to the public available online. The information being compiled for the database will also facilitate the production of accurate informational signage to be displayed throughout the gardens. The collection data will also support the development of horticultural programming for the public.

Pinecrest Gardens conducted a collections assessment study and the findings affirmed that living plants were its greatest institutional assets, the accumulation of many decades of ornamental horticultural history and unique public display.

As Pinecrest Gardens’ identity has grown and matured, so too have expectations regarding the landscape plantings and facilities. Hand in hand with facilities upgrades and expansion have come the revitalization and expansion of cultivated garden areas. We recognize the importance of horticultural record-keeping and the need for accurate botanical signage to convey information, thus enhancing the visitor experience.

As such, the horticultural team has a long-term strategy for collections management that includes identifying and inventorying the garden’s display plants. The multi-year program aims to compile basic plant information and geographic information system (GIS) location for each plant order to implement a plant records database.

Through these efforts to quantify the garden’s plant holdings, and to identify and define collection plants with the intent of making plant information more accessible, the horticultural staff will gain new efficiencies and capabilities to readily identify the many plants that they work with. Through grant funding and private donations, an assistant horticulturalist will support the intensive effort needed for comprehensive plant identification and inventory.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

It is with great pride that we promote local businesses to residents. The Village began this initiative during the pandemic. The feedback was overwhelmingly positive, so since then, we branded the effort as Shop the Parkway and even created a logo. Every Tuesday, we highlight a local eatery via our social media and plan to do more outreach in 2023 to help our small businesses work together with the Village so that they continue to thrive. There are some very special stores in the Village.

Scan the QR code to be directed to the Village’s business directory and go support the local businesses that make Pinecrest unique.
